We are all put together in the same building called Fairview High school; they call us Knights. And we grow here, each in his/her own separate unit. But somehow we hold together, because we are all Fairview Knights.

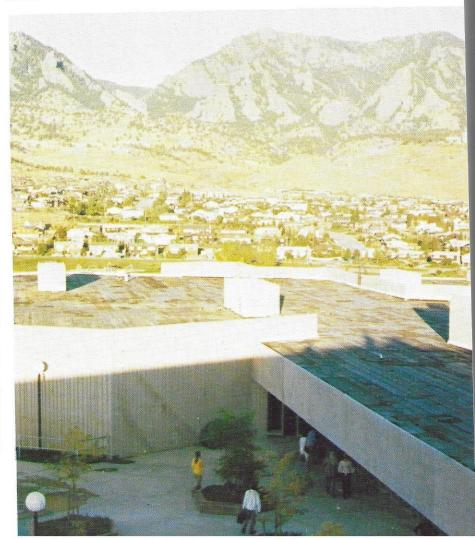

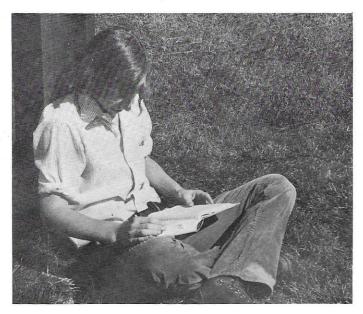

Each day seems to repeat itself; we arrive at school, anticipating how each day will turn out.

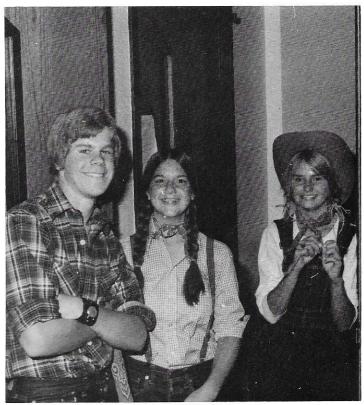

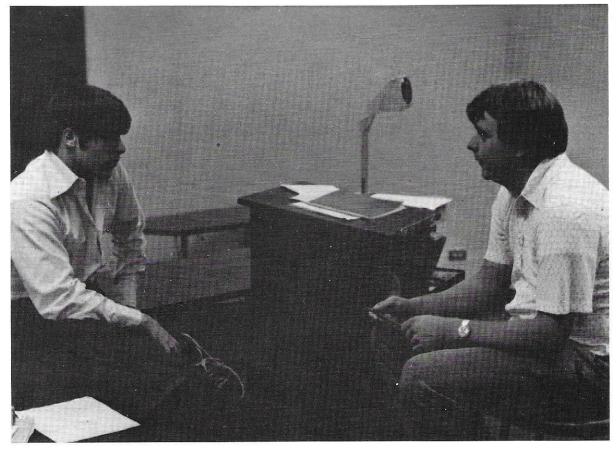

Endless hours we spend studying, listening to lectures, dreading teacher conferences, and occasionally we attend classes.

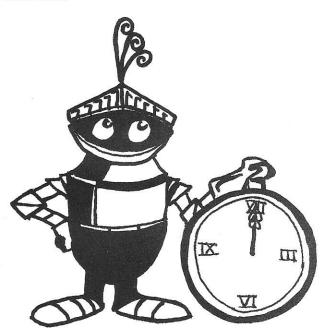

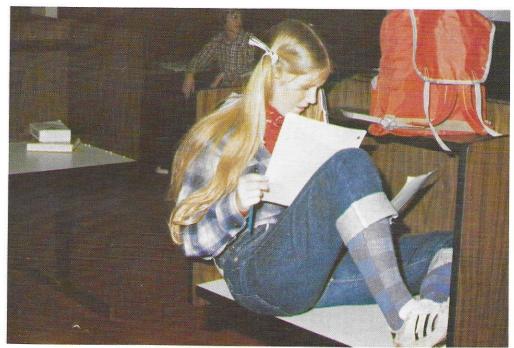

Eating, talking, complaining about school lunches, and sometimes throwing food are all a part of our lunch hour.

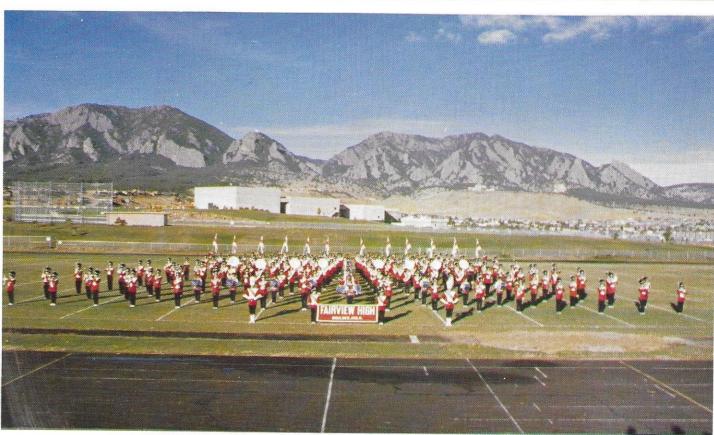

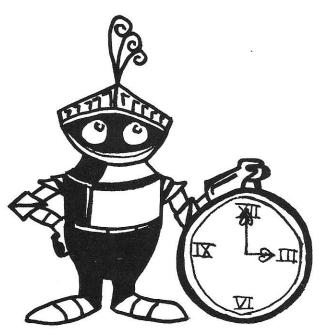

Last minute cramming for the final test of the week, and as it draws to a close, 2,100 proud Knights look forward to weekend activities.

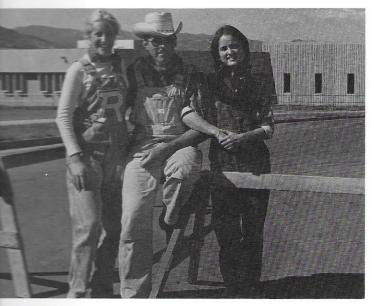

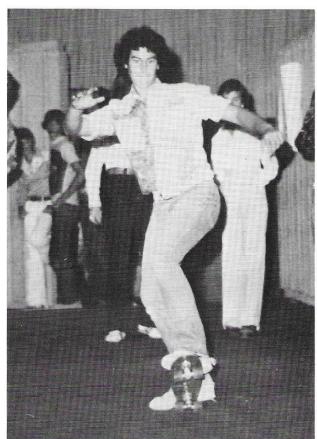

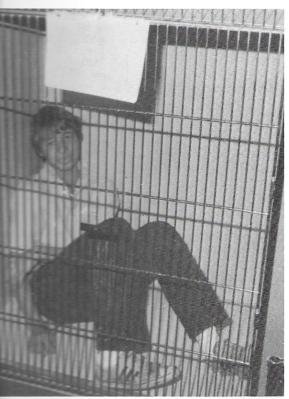

Hectic Friday afternoons promote much school spirit. Enthusiasm mounts through the school as the band suits up and excited members tap their toes to anticipated marching rhythms. Piling in cars, shouts of "We're number one" can be heard by our crosstown rival.

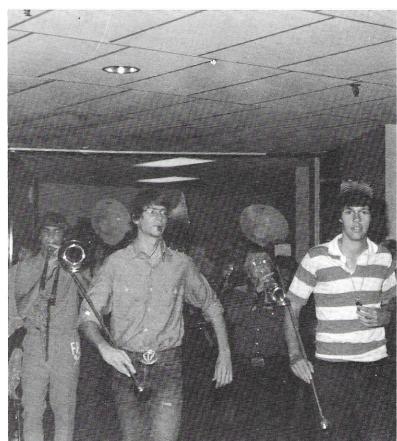

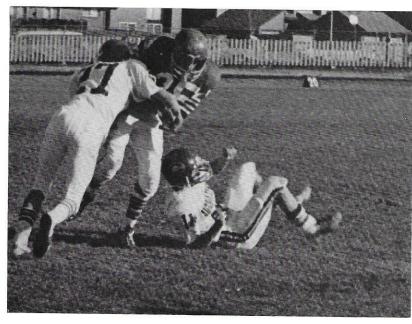

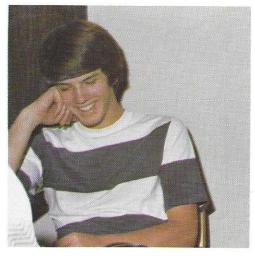

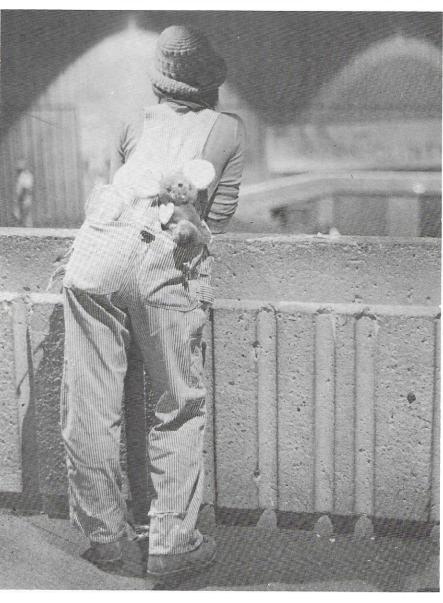

In showing our enthusiasm, we express our inspirations. Sometimes we feel locked up if we are not dismissed from class to follow the band through the halls. During 8th hour we release our energy at the pep assembly.

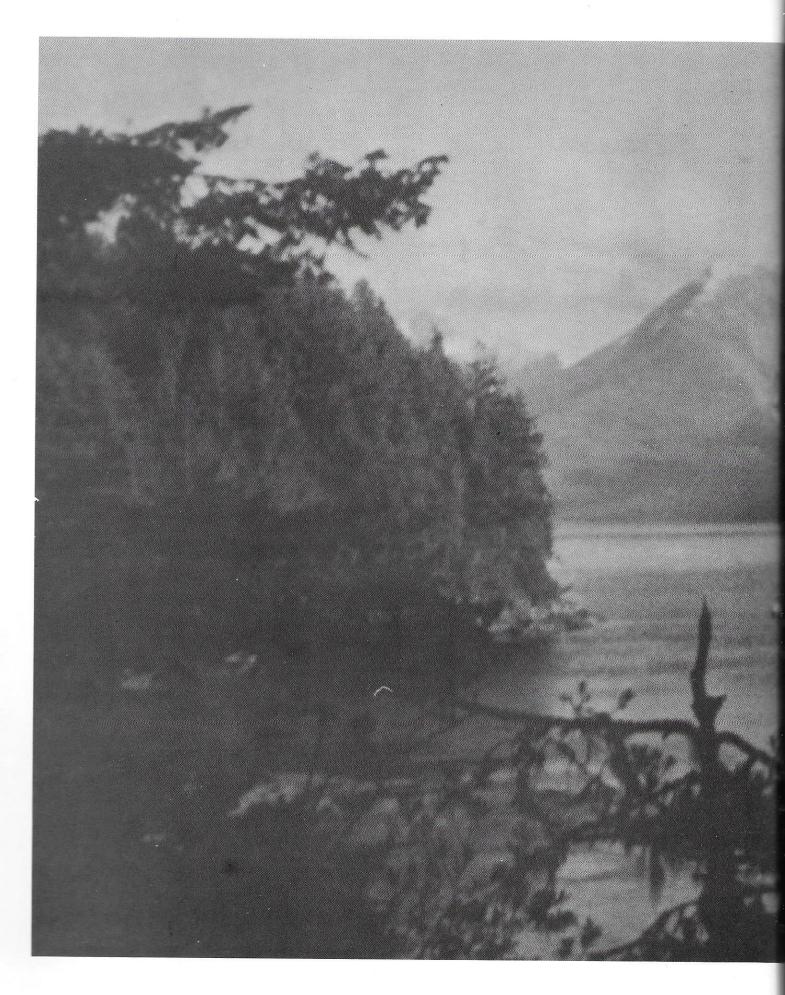

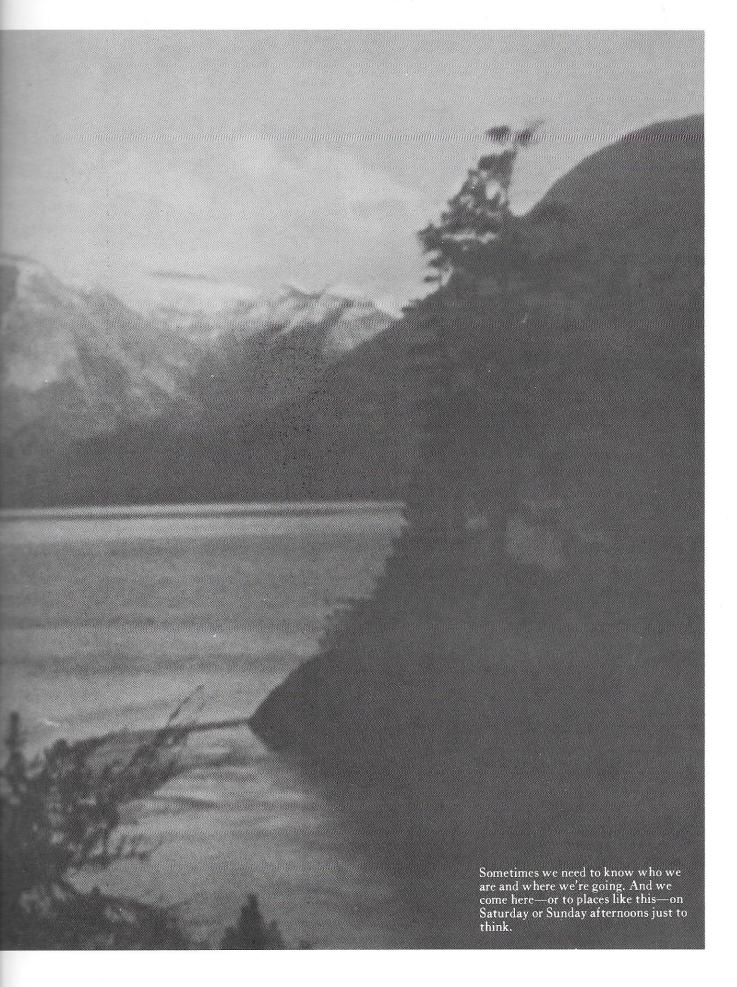

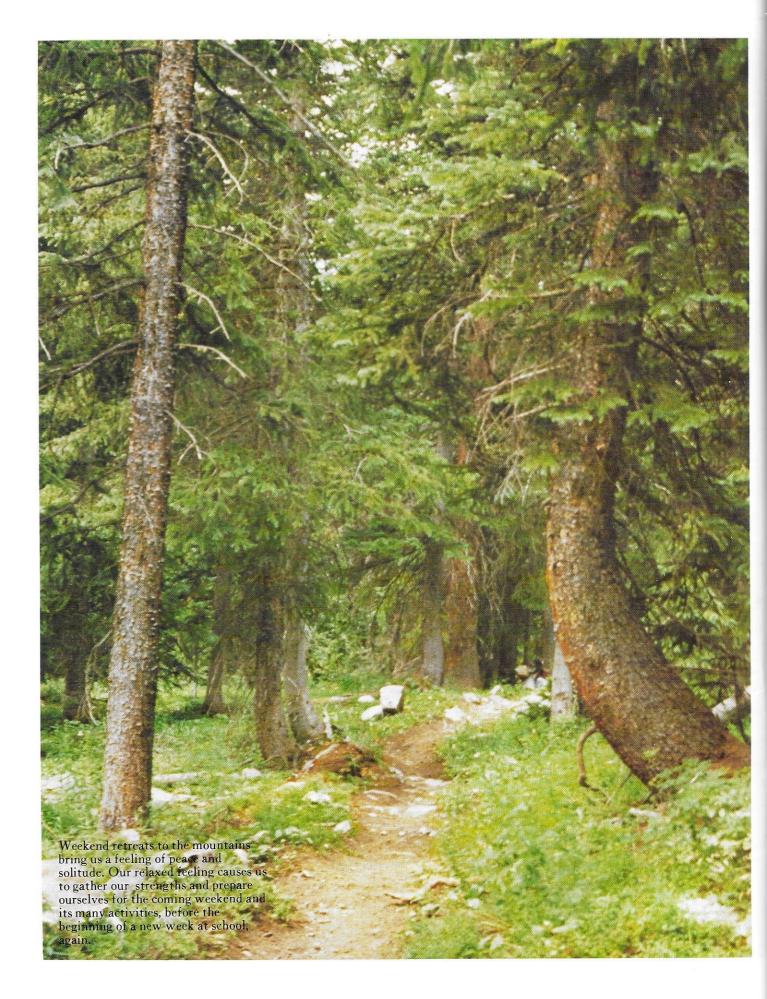

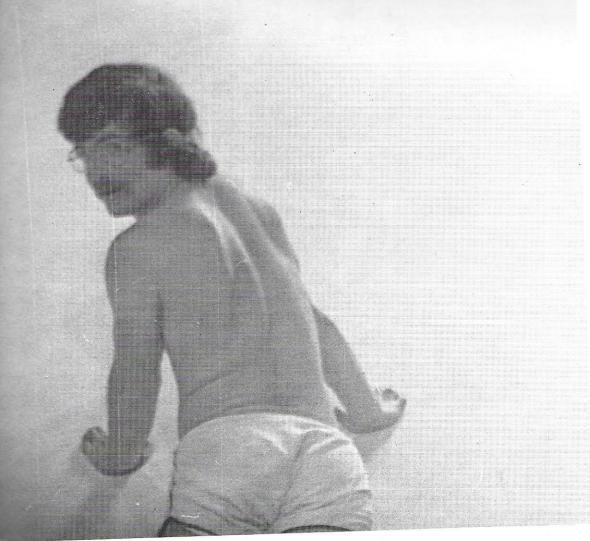

Pep assemblies on Friday afternoons bring us to the Student Center in screaming togetherness. Everywhere are red and white Knights clapping and shouting for weekend victory.

Students took a noticeably increased interest in business this year. To offer enough classes for enrolled students, a new teacher, Miss Cook, was added to the department. This portion of the curriculum offered classes from Typing to somewhat harder courses of Business Law and Accounting.

ENGLISH

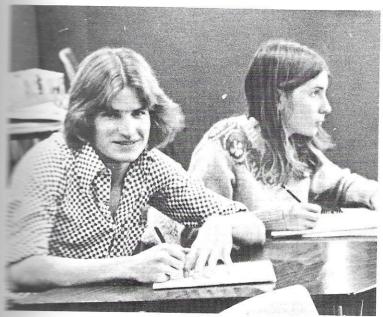

Back To The Basics

Courses in the English Department varied widely this year. Students chose from courses about Literature to Advanced Placement English. Many of the Literature and Old Testament classes had food tasting sessions. The trend in all of the classes was back to the basics, with the concentration on sentence structure and spelling. More students than ever were enrolled in Grammar classes as well.

Mystery of Foreign Voices

More students than ever before were enrolled in the foreign language department, and close to thirty students took more than one language. In addition to fulfilling the course objectives, teachers supplemented their classes with extra activities, such as dinners in private homes and restaurants, videotaping skits, and cheese tasting.

SOCIAL STUDIES CLASSES Man's Eternity From Beginning To End

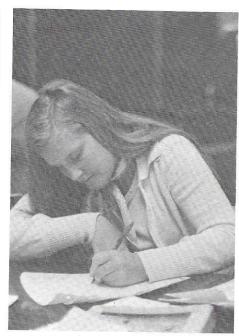

Social Studies was a very popular subject with the students at Fairview High School. There were approximately 1,300 students enrolled in Social Studies classes this year. This is an increase of at least 120 students from last year.

The Social Studies classes do things most people don't expect. For instance, how many students do you see walking around blindfolded? At Fairview, it is an expectation to see students from Psychology class doing this!

SCIENCE CLASSES

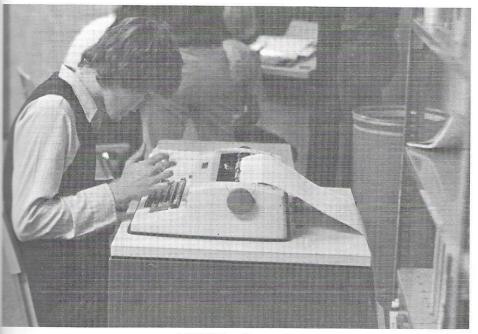

Discoveries Of Tomorrow

Headed by Mr. Carlson this year, the science classes were filled with interested students who were constantly looking into unobserved, unexplored territory, filling their minds with formulas, and studying to be young Einsteins.

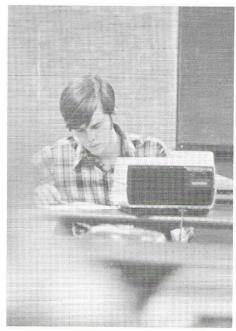

The science classes did some interesting experiments this year such as making "root beer". There were more students enrolled in science classes than there were last year. It seems science is becoming quite a popular subject here.

ROYAL BANNER STAFF Bringing You The News

Led by Editor-in-chief Brent Finster and sponsor Miss Carol Kuban, the Royal Banner Staff published Fairview's newspaper for the sixteenth consecutive year. The paper, which was published each Friday, included school news, sports editorials, and feature stories. The Journalism II class did everything necessary to pull together loose ends and to insure that a top quality paper would be published on time. This year the staff also published one page of FHS news in the weekly Town & Country.

AGE OF GUINEVERE, GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

Our Little Chick-A-Dees

Over 100 talented girls made up the two fine choirs, Girls' Ensemble and Age of Guinevere. They sang a total spectrum of music, everything from sacred to pop at the Extravaganza, Christmas, Winter and Spring Concerts.

Girls' Ensemble, the smaller group of 44 members, practiced three times a week under the direction of Mr. Revier. Officers were Becci Smalley, Kim Harrison, Katie Krause, and Grace Tsaowu. Mr. Keller directed the 65 girls in Age of Guinevere. Officers were Kelly Nelson, Melanie Julian, and Alison Gentry.

Madrigals Chivalry

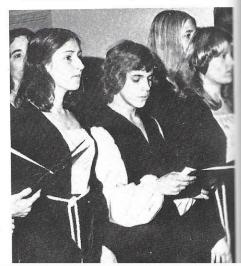

MADRIGALS, CHIVALRY

Singing For Our Own Pleasure

Chivalry and Madrigals, Fairview's extra-curricular choirs, enjoyed performing and practicing outside regular school hours. Madrigals, directed by Jim Keller, sang a style of music originating in the Middle Ages, in numerous community performances.

Officers were Kaye Karlsrud, Mike Shavlik, and Alice Ramsay. All-male Chivalry members came not only from other choirs but from the entire student body. Directed by Ron Revier, they performed at all of the regular choir concerts.

CONCERT CHOIR

The Bigger The Better

The largest of Fairview's eight choirs was Concert Choir. A total of 97 sopranos, altos, tenors, and basses met four times a week. They were directed by Jim Keller and sang a broad variety of sacred and secular music. For the first time, two students were chosen to assist in running the choir. Student director was Willis Morrison and his assistant was Scott Oliver. Performances included the Extravaganza, and regular choir concerts. Officers were Marylida Carline, Sara Piltingsrud, and Diana Darnell.

Festival Choir Broadway Show Choir

FESTIVAL, BROADWAY SHOW CHOIR

Expressing Our Emotions Through Songs We Sing

Singing mostly difficult, serious music, Festival Choir under Ron Revier, served as one of Fairview's top choirs. They appeared in two Sacred Concerts besides the regular concerts, and taped Christmas songs for national radio. Officers were Dave White, Val Lang, Lauri Thompson, and Audrey Biter. In its first year, Broadway Show Choir was a welcome addition to the Choral Department. Directed by Jim Keller, they sang only tunes from famous Broadway musicals. Greg Corrie, Kathy Sisson, and Karen Nistico were officers.

EXCALIBUR

Dance To The Music

Combining a bright pop sound with lively choreography, the 26 talented members of Excalibur, directed by Ron Revier, performed many times. They were featured on a local T.V. show, performed at the CU Madrigal Festival and in the Choir and Jazz Rock Concerts and Pops Festival. They sang for private parties, luncheons, and banquets. The group became close because of the hours spent together. Officers were Beth Bowles, Jasen Mohler, Cyndi Hathaway, and Diana Followwill.

MARCHING BAND

Big Red Marching Machine

A strong sense of pride could be felt every time the Marching Knights took to the field or street. The long, arduous hours of practice paid off with feelings of exhilaration every time the 224 members proved they were the best. They took top honors in the CU Band

Day, CBA Marching Festival, and the Englewood Merchants' Parade. The band performed at all home football games and at a Denver Bronco game. They marched in Denver's St. Patrick's Day parade, and closed the season at the Blossom Day Festival in Canon City.

CONCERT BAND

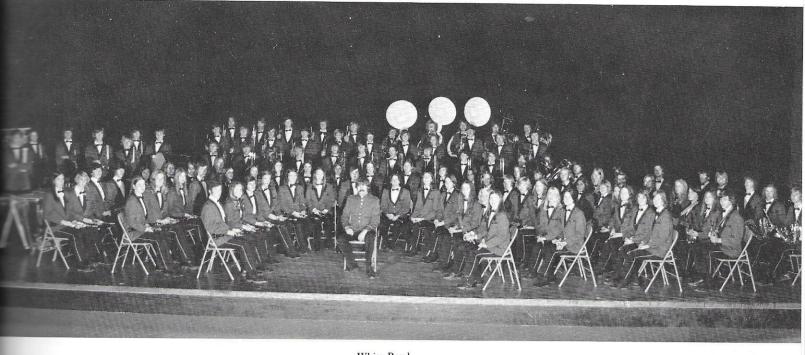

The Beat Goes On

This year, for the first time, all band members were assigned to one of two equal concert bands, the Red or White Band. Both groups, directed by Robert Jeffery, together formed the marching band but performed concert music as separate groups for two concerts and a Jr. High Band Festival in May. Activities included a picnic, Halloween party, and a year-end banquet. The organizing body of the bands was Band Council. Members were Jeff Hale, president; Mary Jones, secretary; and two representatives from each grade.

On Our Way To The Top

Playing some of the most difficult music available for bands was the task of the Symphonic Band. This select group of 48 musicians were the best Fairview had to offer in the way of concert bands. The members, all chosen by audition, met as a group twice a week, in addition to playing in one of the two concert bands the rest of the week. Besides playing in the regular band concerts, Symphonic Band performed with Festival Choir and Madrigals at a concert at St. John's Cathedral in Denver.

STAGE BANDS I, II

Performing In Spotlights of Time

Members of the two Jazz Ensembles were selected from the best of over 230 instrumental musicians. Directors Vince Gnojek and Robert Jeffery placed an emphasis on jazz improvisation and individual creativity. Stage Bands I and II, as they were called, played jazz and rock in three school concerts, and in the Golden Jazz Festival. It was the first performance of its kind for a Fairview Stage Band II. Jazz Ensemble I also performed with the Denver Kicks Band, and in the Pops Festival, and several times with Excalibur.

Fairview High School Orchestra

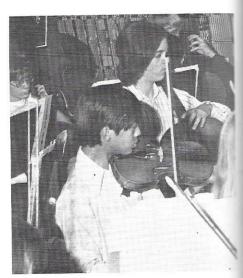

We Believe In Music

Doing everything from Beethoven to ragtime, the Orchestra, directed by Mr. Ray Hannisian, performed its way through another year. Their schedule included concerts, performances at other district schools, a weekend ski trip, and for many members, participation in All-State and Centennial League Honor Orchestras. They appeared in the Extravaganza, in a Sacred Concert and Composers' Concert, and an Honors' Concert.

Officers were Brett Wallace, Lisa Jarvis, Dina Matz, and Kathy Ridley.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA, PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE

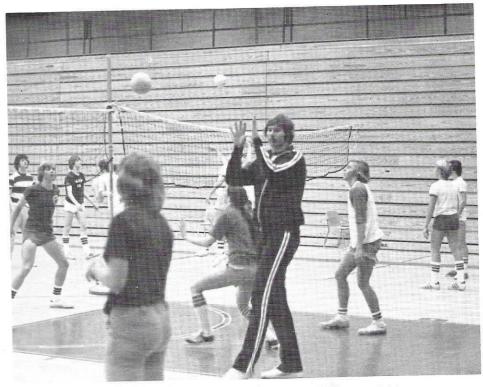

Producing Little Beethovens

Two of Fairview's small, unique instrumental music groups were the Chamber Orchestra and Percussion Ensemble. Directed by Ray Hannisian, the Chamber Orchestra met twice a week after school to give string players an experience in small ensemble playing. The small group of violin, viola, and cello players performed in several concerts and special events. Playing music written just for percussion instruments, Percussion Ensemble met one morning and afternoon a week. Gary Curry led the twelve drummers who performed at the band concerts.

Stinky Socks, Sweaty Bodies

The most popular course in physical education seemed to be sophomore-core—especially the dance section. People not even in the class were coming in to take part during their unscheduled time. The elective program saw heavy enrollment in many of the lifetime activity classes. Students who acquired excess bulk over the summer were given a chance to slim down this year with courses such as archery, fly-tying, and badminton.

Spring is here, the grass has riz, I wonder where the birdies is. The air smells clean, the flowers come soon, and P.E. classes start in full bloom. Boys in gym shorts, girls in short shorts, oh, what fun it is to watch spring gym sports. Tennis balls are bouncing, golf clubs are swinging, cyclers roll down the sidewalks, and canoers are swimming. The sun shines brightly. It beckons and calls, for students to get outside, away from school walls.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASSES

Stirring Up A Better Future

Home Economics this year was aimed toward the Bicentennial theme. The cooking classes made a bicentennial cookbook, and the needle crafts classes made a hand made quilt. The Meals and Advanced foods classes sponsored a crepe sale, in order to finance a dinner at an elegant restaurant, have a tour of the kitchen and work areas, and also meet the chef. They also were able to ask questions about planning meals and menus.

Keeping Engines Running

The car care classes were led this year by a new teacher, Mr. McGregor. The class covered why and how to buy, insure and finance cars. Suffering through cold weather, time was spent outside changing oil, tires, spark plugs and doing minor tune-ups and repairs. After studying electrical systems and parts of the motor, each student was given a chance to demonstrate a maintenance procedure.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION CLASSES

Maniacs Behind The Wheel

Proving that learning to drive is one of a high school student's major goals, 250 of them signed up each semester for drivers' education classes. The students spent their classroom time learning the fundamentals of driving through lectures, films, and from various guest speakers. All class members were able to practice what they learned by driving on city streets with a teacher and by spending six hours at the driving range where they were able to drive by themselves for the first time.

Many students who wanted to put to use the skills they had learned enrolled in Vo-Tech courses. In doing this, students were able to build many projects, do repair work, or go into work, such as cosmotology. Vo-Tech also offered courses such as Computer Programming and Radio or Television Productions. Students also operated their own radio station.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Practice Makes Perfect

There is more to the Fairview High School plays than meets the eye. The behind-the-scenes crew played a very important part in the productions. Mr. Russ Croop, technical director, was in charge of the many different crews needed behind the scenes. The crews consisted of a building crew, the running crew, the props' mistress, and the lighting crew. Without these crews, Fairview's annual school plays could not have gotten underway.

"The Unsinkable Molly Brown," chosen as this year's fall musical, tied in with the Bi-Centennial. Beth Bowles, as Molly Tobin, and Jasen Mohler, as Johnny "Leadville" Brown, played the leads. The play consisted of one of the largest casts ever at Fairview. There were 49 roles in the play, plus the choirs. The play centered around the sinking of the Titantic and Molly's struggle to survive.

HOMECOMING Memories Of Knights Before

A happy Fairview football team as the Knights beat Aurora Central 20-3, a victory for the Junior class as they came through for the second year in a row to win the float contest, a thrilled Beth Arnold as she was crowned the 1975 Homecoming Queen, and a very cold night as the temperature reached a low of 10. SPRING PLAY

'The Chalk Garden'

For three nights in March, the auditorium became the setting for THE CHALK GARDEN, this year's spring play. The drama, written by Enid Bagnold, is a psychological mystery woven around an elderly gentlewoman, her precocious granddaughter, and a mysterious governess. As the young girl and the governess engage in games of wit and intellect, the secrets of the past are revealed and the plot thickens.

BIBLE CLUB

Searching the scriptures and finding real solutions to real problems was one of the major accomplishments of this year's brand new Bible Club. In discovering that the real meaning of life and Christianity lies in asking Christ into one's heart, members developed a strong personal relationship with Christ. They found truth in Christian fellowship at Bible Club under the guidance of Mrs. Hughes.

Northern Division Champions

At the beginning of the 1975 football season Sam Pagano and his Knights were picked to finish second in the Northern Division of the Centennial League behind Boulder High. By the seventh game of the season the Knights had beaten all opponents, clinched the Northern Division crown and were rated third in the state. All of these accomplishments led up to a game with second ranked, Southern Division champ Cherry Creek. The Knights just barely missed advancing to the state tournament when they lost to Cherry Creek 12-7. The Knights also won the Hollister trophy by defeating crosstown rivals Boulder High.

The 1975-76 basketball team was a success story in many ways. Playing with seven juniors and only three seniors, the Knights were impressive in running their season record to 15-5 and missing the state tourney by one game, a 73-66 defeat to the Creek. FHS was led by all-league picks Fred Heppner and Jim Feeney. Heppner scored over 15 points a game, while Feeney averaged 20 points per game and led the entire league in assists. Feeney was also selected for the All-State second team.

The girls' basketball team dribbled their way to a 19-2 record this year and earned third place in the first Girls' Basketball State Tournament. Coached by Diann Laing, the Knights were rated number one in the state before the tournament. Seniors Jean Raikes and Kelly Hill led the squad to a 69.5 scoring average and finished 1-2 in Centennial League scoring.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

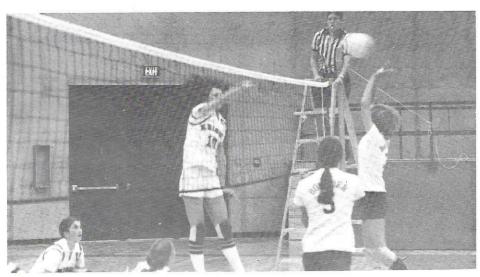

Perfect Record-League Champs

Coached by Diann Laing, the girls' volleyball team compiled a perfect 11-0, league record, naming them the Centennial League Champs which earned them a berth in District Finals. The Lady Knights also won a three-game series against cross-town rival Boulder High, with scores of 15-0 and 15-1. Four new girls joined the returning five and put together an outstanding offense. The on-target serving was also a main factor in the girls' season!

GIRLS' SWIMMING

Stroking To State

The FHS girls' swim team, coached by Rich Kleine, had a satisfying season with four girls, LuAnn Bjorklund, Debbie Farnsworth, DeaAnn Rudolph, and Kathy Thurmer; qualifying for State. Early risers could be seen at the South Boulder Rec Center, where practice was held at 6:30 a.m. The girls began their strive for State, as Rich Kleine coached them on to many well-deserved victories!

KNIGHTS PLAYING

Sports Wrap-Up

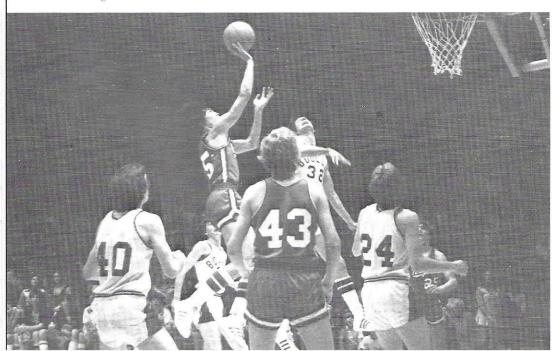

As the sports year concluded, participants and on-lookers reviewed the many exciting events of the past year. Participants remember well the early morning practices and staying late after school. Onlookers viewed the dedicated athletes as they descended down Greenbriar

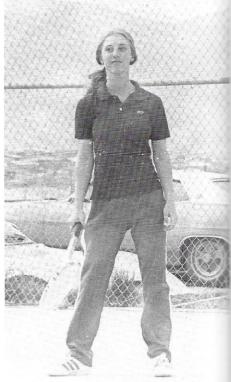

Avenue. Parents and friends were seen praising their favorite athlete, while the athletes themselves felt an inner sense of achievement. As the school year drew to a close, these athletes remember their many hours of devotion and competition.

The Varsity Football team ended their season with a hard earned 9-1 record and placed second in league competition.

Boys' Varsity Basketball, beat out twice by cross-town rivals, missed the state tourney by one game, holding a 15-5 record.

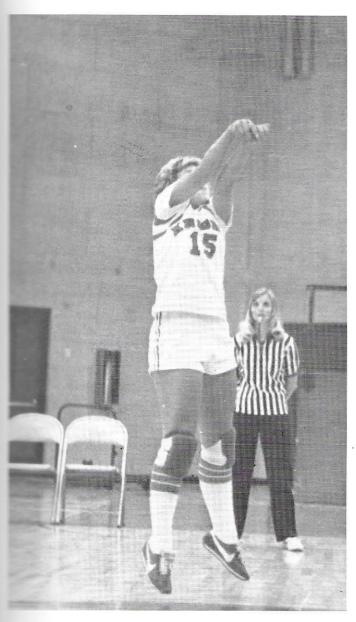

The Girls' Tennis team, loosing only two meets, finished sixth in district.

Placing fourth in league, the Varsity Track team sent seven men to state.

Placing fourth place in state, the Baseball team were champs in our league.

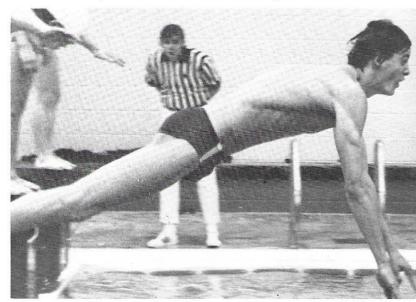

Claiming "League Champs" was the Girls' Volleyball team's season goal,

Girls' Gymnastics took a well earned fifth in league.

Boys' Swimming claimed top ten in state.

Sprinting their way to fifth in state, the Cross Country team was often seen practicing in Viele Park during late evenings and early morning hours.

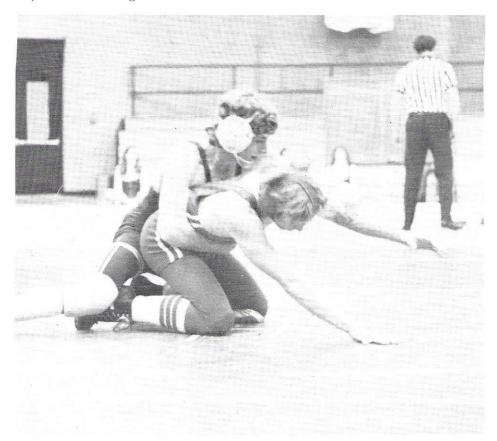

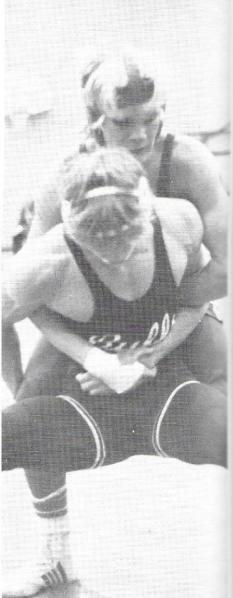

VARSITY WRESTLING

Struggle on the Mats

Fairview's '75-'76 varsity wrestling team had a successful season, winding up with a 6-4-1 record in Centennial League dual meets and a 6th place finish in district competition. It was also a disappointing season, as the Knights had expected to finish higher and be in the thick of the race for the league championship. This year's team sent senior, 167 pound John Christopher to the state tourney. Along with Christopher, there were many other graduation losses.

TRACK

Wings on our Feet

Perhaps winning the Centennial League relays at Arapahoe, the Mapleton Invitational, and the Fairview Invitational pointed the track team in the right direction. In the League championships, the squad pulled fourth.

State qualifiers were Kurt Laubish (big jump), brothers Mitch and Mike Call (discus), Jayme McCoy (pole vault), Robert Foster (180 yard low hurdles), and the mile relay team of Scott Baird, Foster, Charles Ladd, and sophomore Mark Whitehouse. Senior Mitch Call got the Knights' only points at state with a fifth place finish in the discus.

SOPHOMORE BASEBALL

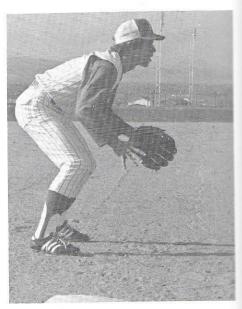

We Do It All For You

The sophomores started out their baseball careers at Fairview with fine results; they also ended the season in the same way. It all came about from the hard work they put into their playing baseball the right way. It's always hard during the first year at high school. But these guys went all out when playing for the school. Team members included S. Oliver, D. Noyse, G. Ellis, W. Flowers, D. Hale, M. Cox, S. Tanner, L. Ladwig, T. Welsby.

Centennial League Champions

Rookie Coach Tom Powell led this year's team to the Northern Division championship and went on to beat Cherry Creek for the Knights' first Centennial league baseball championship ever. The Knights vied against Palmer of Colorado Springs for a berth in the state tournament and won 1-0. They met Grand Junction in their first game and were defeated 2-0 by an outstanding pitching staff. Longmont was their next opponent, and they lost 7-0 and ended up with a fourth place finish in the state tourney.

INTRAMURALS

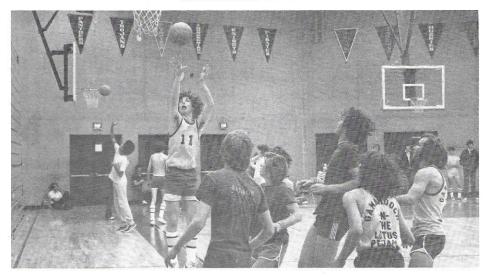

Amateurs at our Best

Over 150 students divided into 18 teams participated in Intramural basketball this year. Over a two month period these teams matched skills with only two teams earning a place in the championship game. The top four teams in each league made the playoffs. In the National League, Stink Feet emerged the only undefeated team. Blue Max finished atop the American league with a 7-1 record. The Whizzes, who finished regular season play with a 6-2 record earned their way into the Championship by routing Stink Feet 59-4 and trimming the All-Stars 36-34.

We Fly Through the Air With the Greatest of Ease

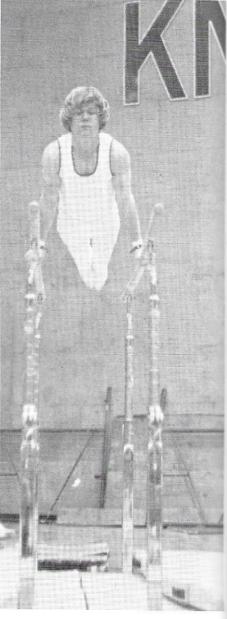

After Tom Parchman's first season he was very proud of the guys who ended the season with a 8-7 record. Parchman had a definite feeling that the guys really enjoyed gymnastics this year. There were a few problems this year, one being the lack of consistency. There were four seniors, two juniors, and five sophomores on the team.

GOLDEN FOOTBALL

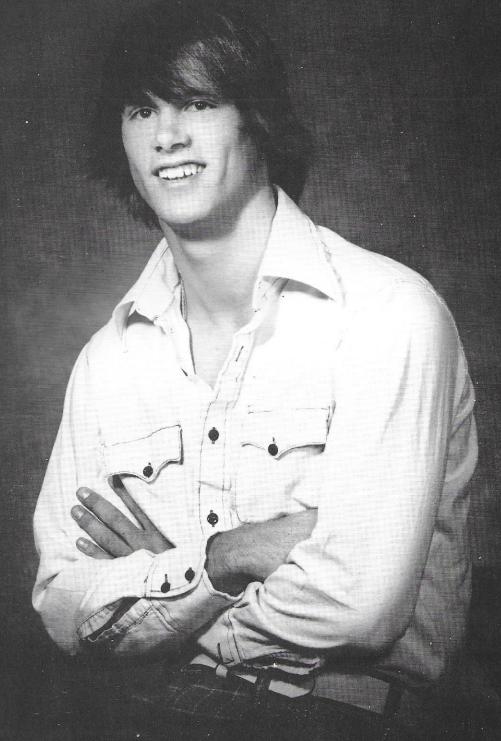

Desire Wins the Game

Football team tri-captain Scott Fitzgerald was chosen Golden Football person for the 1975 season. Scott first got interested in football in 8th grade at Burbank Jr. High. During his soph year here, he played J.V., and then advanced to the varsity squad. Scott plays the tightend on offense and linebacker on defense.

At the end of the football season, coaches in the Centennial League chose him as worthy of the All-League title. To top off his football career, Scott played in the All-State game on August 14 in the tight-end position.

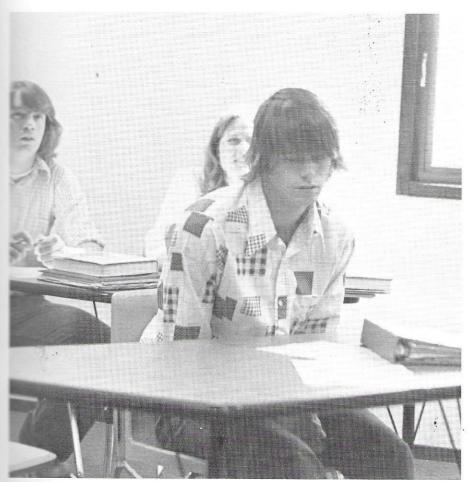

Scott started to play ball "mostly to keep in shape, and because I liked the guys on the team." He feels that it was a very worthwhile activity to become involved in. Scott plans to attend a trade school for a couple of years, and then return to CU and major in architecture and engineering. He does not plan to play ball in college.

GOLDEN BASKETBALL

Success Is The Secret

Fairview's Golden Basketball Award is given each year to the player who has contributed the most to the success of its varsity team during the previous season. This year for the first time the award was given to an underclassman, junior Jim Feeney. Feeney led the team in scoring, averaging over 20 points per game. He also led the Centennial League in assists, with almost 8 assists a game.

Highlighting his junior year was his selection as an all-Centennial league guard and being chosen "All-State" in all of the major area polls. Feeney's hopes for the future include going to state tournament next year and attending college and playing basketball after high school.

KNIGHT CLUB

Smiling Faces - Sometimes

Excitement, enthusiasm, and spirit were promoted in every way by this year's Knight Club. These hard working girls supported all school athletics and cheered the teams on to victories. This year was Mrs. Zeckser's last year to sponsor Knight Club. The girls have a lot to thank Mrs. Zeckser for, especially all of her hard work, enthusiasm, understanding and helpfulness.

MOD SQUAD

Admiring Men's Muscles

Cheering the wrestling teams on to a great season, Mod Squad had a very successful season. They, along with the cheerleaders, gave great support to the team. Some of the responsibilities of the girls were to keep the scores and stastics, as well as cheering and giving remarkable support for the teams. This year's president of the squad was Shar LaPointe.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Fight Like A Knight

Headed by Beth Arnold, a lone returner to the cheerleading squad, the varsity cheerleaders kept up the spirit of the school throughout the year. Practicing cheers, making "Home of the Knight" signs, poster parties, and organizing Pep Assemblies, filled up most of the six members' time. Every Tuesday and Thursday the cheerleaders spent their lunch hour practicing.

POM-PON GIRLS

Dancing To The Music

Can-Can, Cadence, Horse, and The Theme from Shaft, are among the many favorite numbers which the Pom Pon Girls composed routines, danced and cheered to. This year the squad experimented with two heads, Diane Olson and Liz Schwartz. The girls attended a camp and practiced three or more times a week during the summer. Each of the girls sponsored a sport, was responsible for attending the games and making locker signs and posters.

The sophomore class this year was headed by Jeff Holmstead as president and Martha Ferree as secretary-treasurer. They had some great ideas, including selling candy cane grams during Christmas and sponsoring an after game dance. They felt they had a very good year. If they keep working hard their future will be a sure success at Fairview, they agree.

JR. CLASS OFFICERS

Silent Type Of Leadership

Junior Class President Dave Nuss and Junior Class Secretary-Treasurer Amy Paulson busied themselves with junior class activities and with Stu-Co activities. They started off the year by winning the homecoming float contest with a JAWS entry. Dave and Amy also were in charge of planning the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom which was a big success.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The senior class offices for the school year of 1975-1976 were held by Mike Higgins, president and Jenelle Tennison, secretary-treasurer. The last year of high school is always exciting and was fun to lead. Overall the seniors had a great year.

LORDS AND LADIES

Reigning Knights And Damsels

November: Beth Arnold and Brett Wallace

Our fearless leaders Mike and Mary To the sophomores look so scary.

Lord Mike and Lady Jennelle Like to give each other . . . trouble.

In the depth of a November storm Brett and Beth stay nice and warm.

September: Mary Tary and Mike Wolfe. October: Mike Higgins and Jenelle Tennison

Anticipating a new year, Tom and Sue start with good cheer.

January: Tom Bauer and Susan Breternitz. December: John Quist and Beth Bowles.

Waiting for Santa's fun surprises Beth and John have stars in their eye-ses.

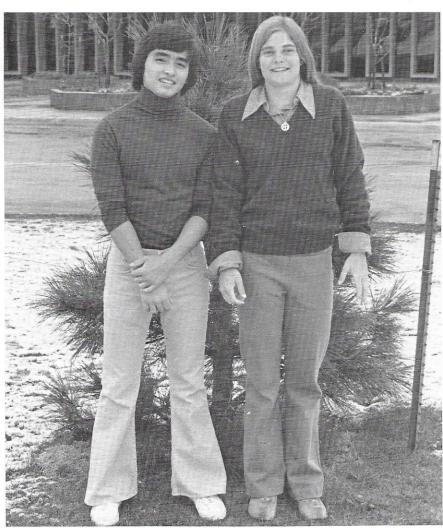

March: Randy Farnsworth and Susan Hunter.

Kelly and Marty look rather stupid Trying their best to be little Cupids.

Randy and Susan are Leprechaun sprites, They try to be good with all their might.

Spring Fever hits ol' Jean, As she hits Vinnie on the bean.

February: Marty Ida and Kelly Hill. April: Vinnie Orlandino and Jean Raikes.

May: Lisa Anderson and Scott Baird (not pictured)

June: Tim Engles and Diane Olson.

Down to the park Lisa and Scott go, Ain't it great that there's no more snow?!

Tim and Diane are royalty for June, They are so happy we graduate soon!

CHILDREN'S PLAY

The Beauty of Sleeping Beauty

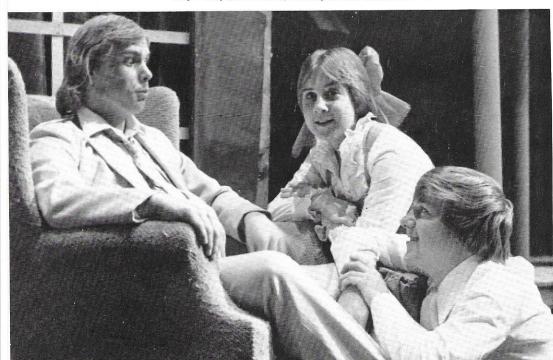

"Sleeping Beauty", this year's children's play, was done in a Japanese language known as "Kabaki." The story, acted in an Oriental type setting, was a great success! All of the involved characters, who never used "kabaki" before, had help from a Japanese lady. The Thespians had no other outside help from adults other than Ms. Rita Majors, sponsor. Proceeds will help the club with social activities.

Kathy Udall, Steve Silvers make a mess of themselves.

Amy Phillips, Bill Gravel, and Boyd Noble discuss the situation.

Frank Hage paints stage sets.

Bob Haynes.

Mark Granzow, Bob McCarroll.

Unloading the trucks and getting organized for the weekend campout.

Boy, is this nature food terrible!

Mrs. Chu relaxes outside one of the cabins.

BIO-ENVIRON

A Change of Pace In the Estes Mts.

Having oreos stashed in a back pack, learning pine needles come in packages, putting "help nature, feed the ticks" on the door of a cabin, and taking a biological apartment home were all part of the Bio-Environ field trip. During this three day trip, many students got a first hand chance of experience with nature at its best. The activities consisted of all kinds of hikes and fishing, topped off with a nature scavanger hunt.

Tom Smallwood, Tom French, and Mike Nelson, "First Light"

D'Arlyn Oppeboen and Beth Bowles share the spotlight.

The entire cast performs THAT'S WHEN THE MUSIC TAKES ME.

Brett Wallace backs up Kaye Karlsrud.

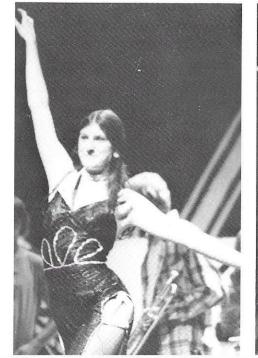

Tony Trumble and Cece Smith dance to the music.

Val Lang belts out DIDN'T WE.

Lea Maydew claps with the music. Lauri Thompson soaks up the applause.

Renee Athay, Val Lang, and Beth Bowles have got the BOOGIE FEVER.

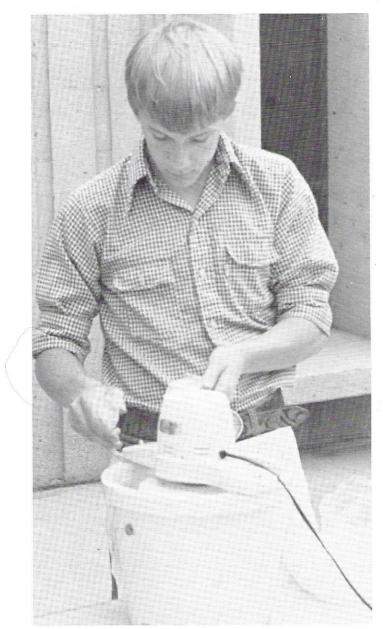

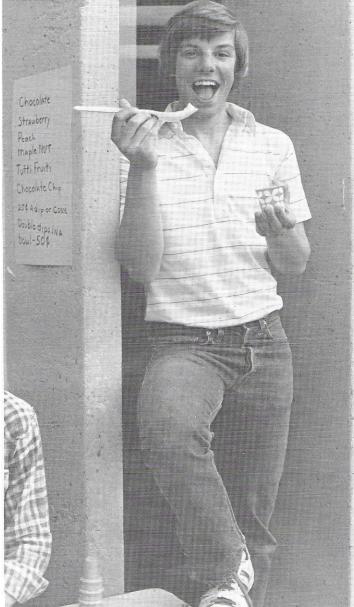

"The New Grass Gazette": Dave White, Phil Demaree, Willis Morrison Sue Breternitz belly dancing.

POPS FESTIVAL That's When the Music Takes Me

Showcasing everything from belly dancing to bluegrass, the 1976 Pops Festival filled the auditorium with music three nights in a row. The show included nineteen individual acts and eight numbers by Excalibur and Stage Band I. The entire cast joined together for the opener, APPLAUSE, and the finale and theme song, THAT'S WHEN THE MUSIC TAKES ME.

BI-CENTENNIAL

Celebrating Our 200th Birthday

During the Bicentennial Fair week at Fairview students got into the spirit by taking over the home economics area where they served homemade ice cream. The P.E. department highlighted the week with apple bobbing, barrel rolls, leg wrestling, and many other contests. It was a once in a century celebration.

"Work, work, that's all we do," Stephanie O'Brien.

"I'm so photogenic," Ken Terry.

"I have an itch," Rick Myers.

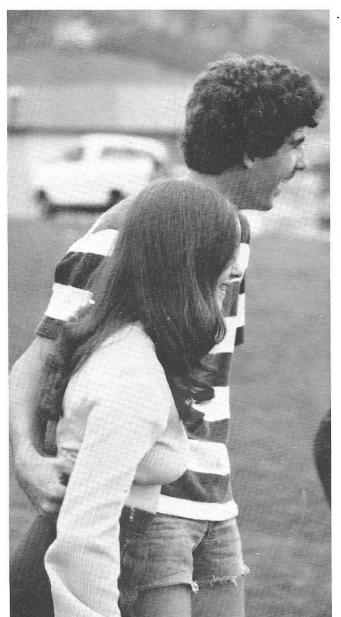

"Am I supposed to be listening," Tom Urban.

"Now, for the rest of my work," Susan Edgerton.

WORK STUDY We Learn in a Special Way

In the work study classes, sophomores work an hour each day doing aid work in the school, serving in roles such as library helpers. The juniors and seniors worked half a day outside the school at a business or went to vo-tech. The other half of the day was spent in classes such as music, P.E., Home Ec., or studying and having conferences with teachers.

Daren W. marks the tee as his partner kicks off.

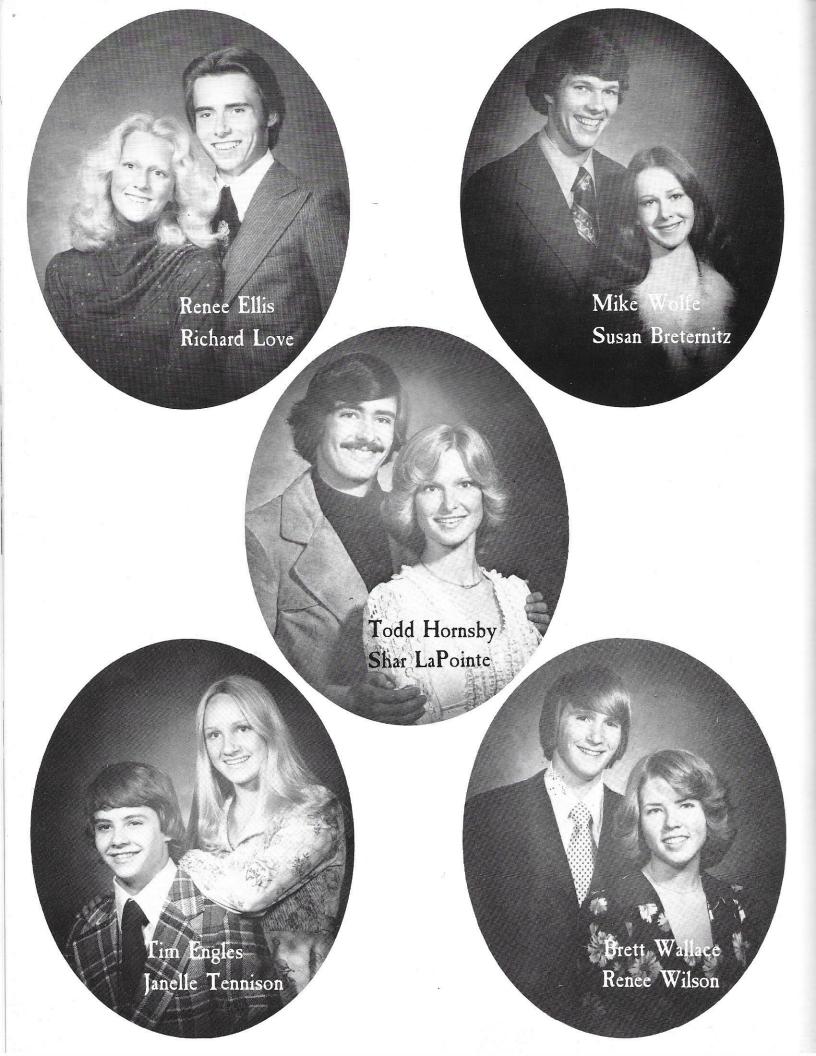

Mr. Parchman participates in the crawling contest.

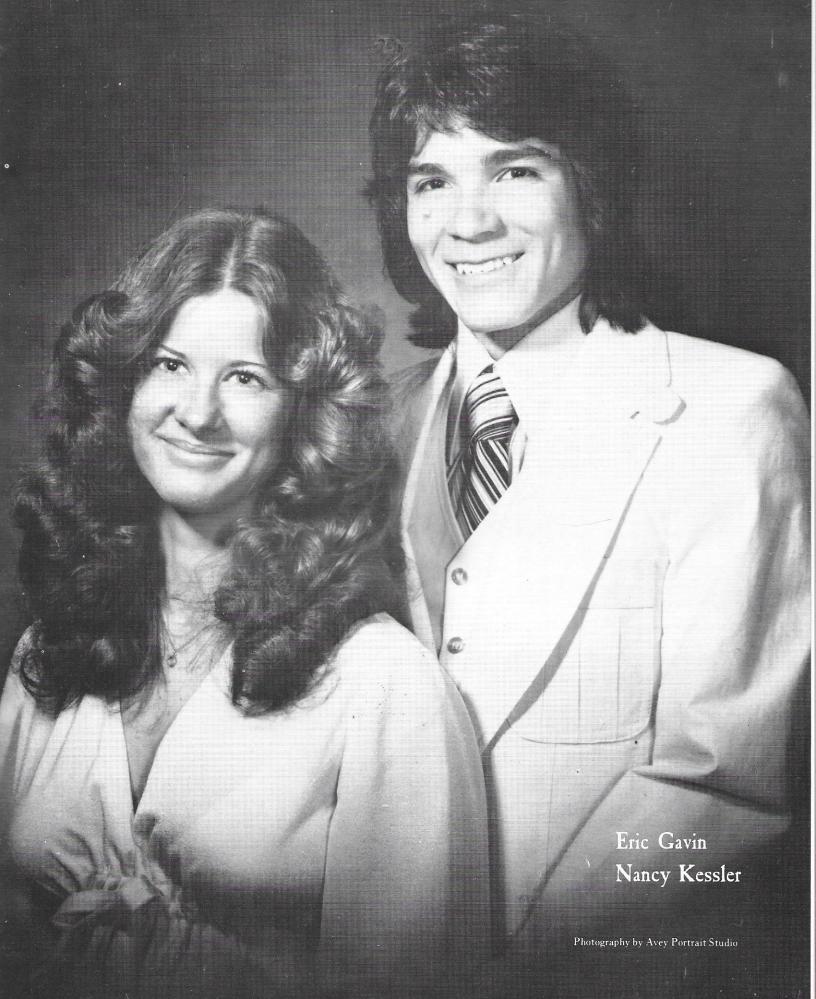

I'm the only sane teacher around here!

FAIRVIEW FROLICS Spring Sports Play Day for All

In the final days of each school year, tradition gives teachers and members from each class a chance to compete. The "Fairview Frolics" the name of this competition, hosted a large turnout, with the class of '76 triumphing over all. The competition was based on skill, but difficult skills. These included an egg toss, three-legged-races, and tricycles races

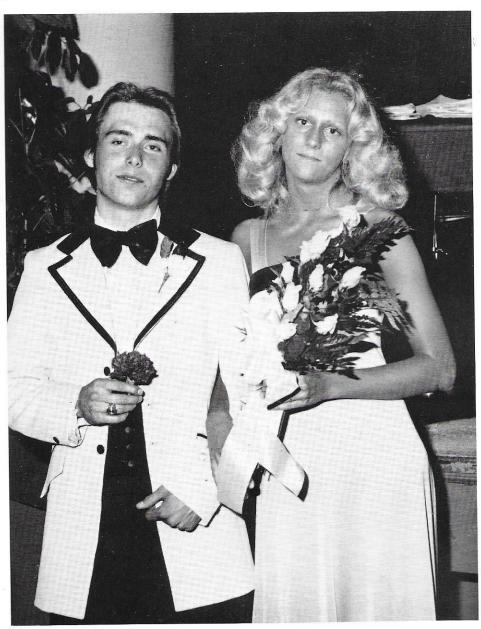

1976 Prom Queen, Nancy Kessler and King Eric Garin. The King and Queen's dance.

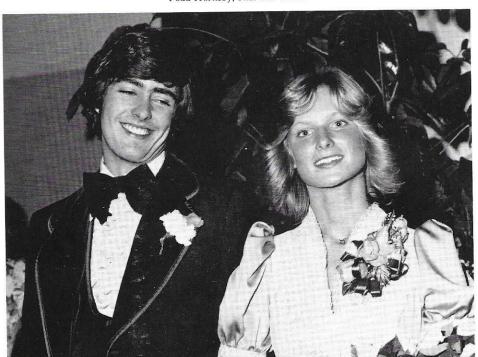

1975 Prom Queen Eugenie Morton with the newly crowned queen.

Prom Candidates Tim Engles and Jenelle Tennison.

"We are honored to be here," Richard Love, Renee Ellis.
Todd Hornsby, Shar LaPointe.

Master of Ceremonies, Mike Higgins.

1976 PROM 'IF' Only Pictures Could Talk

The 1976 prom ceremonies, held at the UMC Ballroom on May 8, produced many happy memories for members of the senior class. Attending their last formal dance, a happy queen, Nancy Kessler, and king, Eric Garin, reigned over the evening. The traditional afterprom was held at the Elks Club, and the evening's activities led many tired, but happy, seniors home.

SR. STEAK FRY

Our Last Big Social Event

As the school days grew closer to an end, and senior week began, the class of '76 was confronted with one thing after another. Finals had to be taken, senior checkout cards had to be signed, and caps and gowns had to be picked up. As a finale to the week, and the three years spent at Fairview, the class gathered on top of Flagstaff mountain to have one last social event together. This was the time, for many, to laugh for the last time with their friends who helped them struggle through the long road of high school.

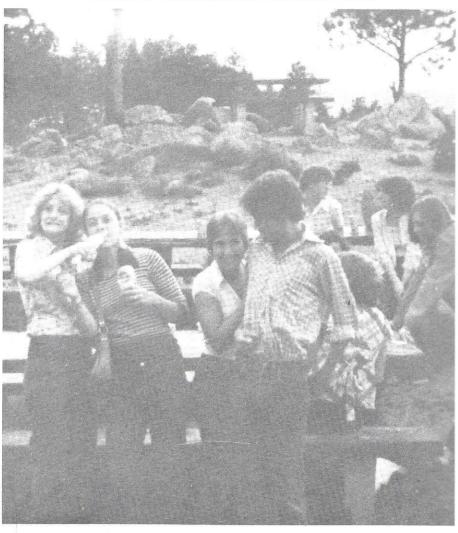

D'Arlyn Oppenboen, Beth Bowles.

Two seniors on their way to the steak fry.

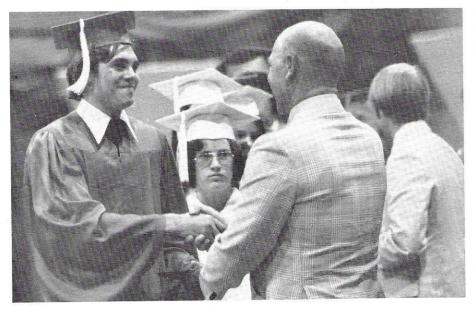

"I see you there," Lea Maydew, with the view of Boulder behind.

Val Lang, Lea Maydew, Amy Phillips, Jasen Mohler.

Graduation Speakers: Mary Tary, Mike Wolfe, Susan Hunter.

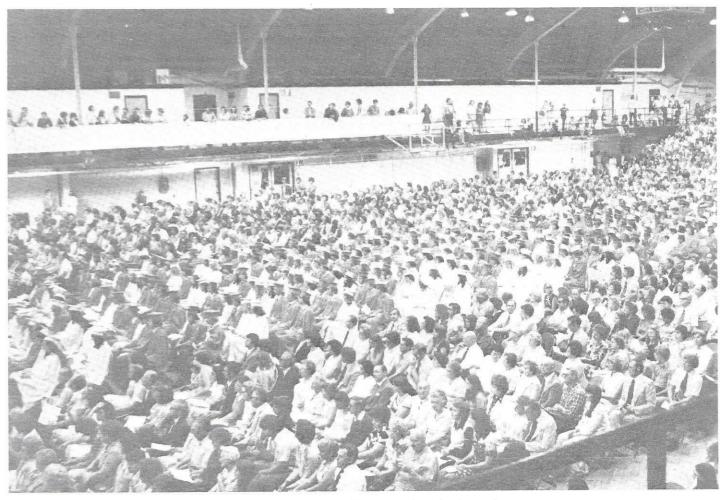

Doug Shepard proudly receives his diploma.

GRADUATION

The Long Road To Freedom

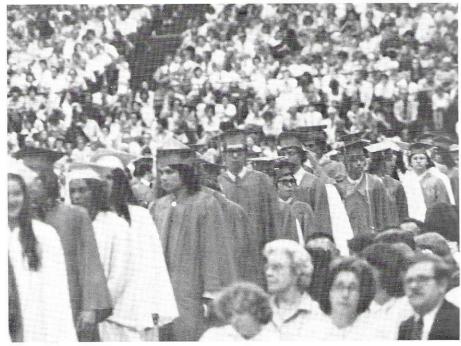

June 8, 1976, was a day 580 seniors looked forward to with anxious hearts. Practice that morning had been a goof-off time. But, now, here was the real thing. Would we remember what we were supposed to do? The music started, and the class of '76 marched in, each member trying not to get out of step. When the class was seated, the graduation speakers began their part in the ceremony. Many thoughts were turned back to the past three years that we had spent at Fairview. Much of the laughter that was seen earlier, had turned to tears.

The audience, and the class of '76, listen to the graduation speakers.

Tracy Reagin.

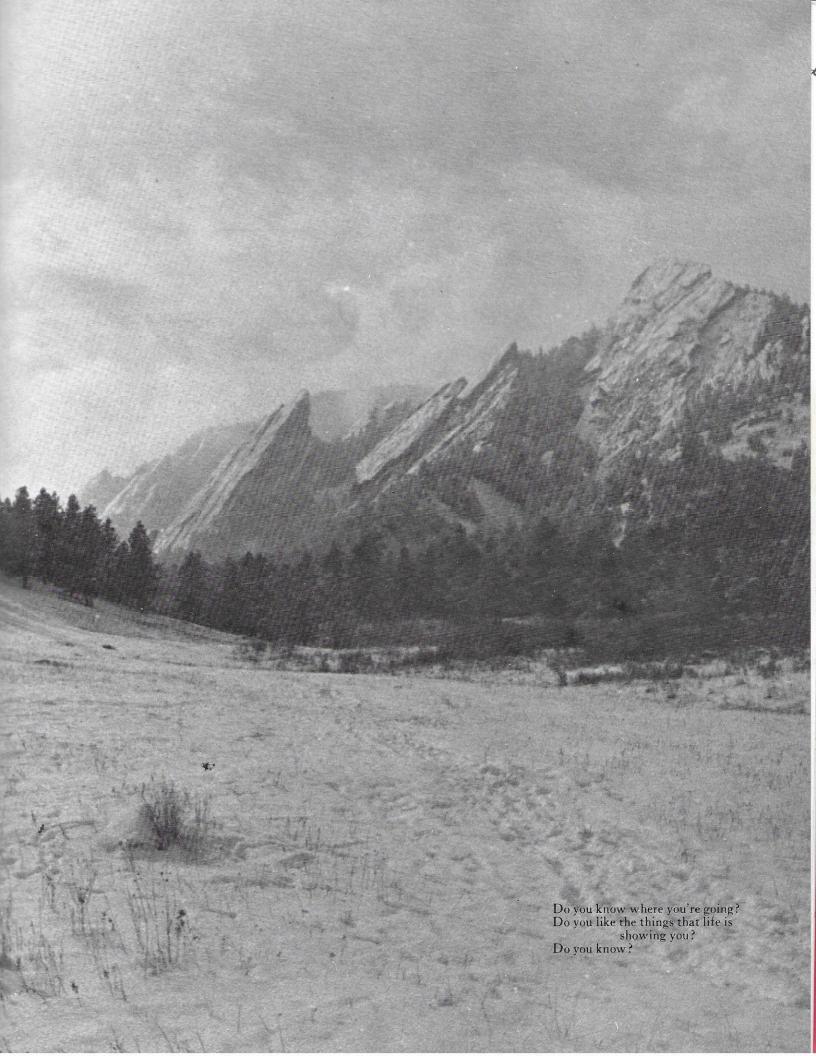

The long march down the aisle.

Remember.....

This was the Bi-Centennial, and the Colorado Centennial year, too... Mr. Williams became our principal for a year. . . we beat Boulder high in football, 14-12. . . but lost to them twice in basketball. . . the juniors won the Homecoming float contest... Beth Arnold was crowned Homecoming Queen in sub-zero degree weather... Debbie Farnsworth went to state in girls' swimming... Lynette Fromme took a shot at President Ford... Happy Days was popular... ACT and SAT occupied Saturdays for seniors... Bicentennial minutes and Bicentennial ripoffs were commonplace... Molly Brown was the school's drama hit. . . Karen Ann Quinlan kept breathing without machines. . . Winter Ball finally happened in March. . . girls' basketball went to state. . . a gondola crashed at Vail. . . Spider Sabich died in Aspen of gunshot wounds... the skirt lengths went longer and the hair lengths shorter... noon hours were spent eating at McDonald's...Kissinger became the issue in the '76 campaign... skate boarding was a favorite ramp activity... we felt the loss of a dedicated English teacher with Mr. Zerrenner's death... Patty Hearst was found guilty of bank robbery... Richard Nixon made an "unofficial" visit to China... Pep Club bake sales kept us fed and fat. . . college registration was on our mind. . . CIA murder plots awed and frightened us with shades of Orwell's 1984... Jimmy Carter started the '76 campaign band wagon rolling... and Ronald Reagan threatened President Ford's bid for the oval office... back at Fairview, we tired of listening to a broken intercom and sitting under dripping ceiling tiles. . . Howard Hughes, J. Paul Getty, and Martha Mitchell died... The Beatles and Beach Boys became popular again... One Flew Over the Cookoo's Nest won seven academy awards... Senioritis set in, like we knew it would... Saturday night parties kept us going (or not going) during the week... IRC sold hot pretzels... Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman kept us awake nights and asleep mornings. . . All the President's Men visited Boulder . . . choir concerts went on and on and on to receptive audiences. . . a green and gold prom at UMC Ballroom was formal . . . and an after prom at the Elks Club was well attended... Sunrise Breakfast topped the big night... state baseball games in Pueblo for the 1st time ever for FHS... senior steak fry also had chicken this year... graduation practice was a lark... and then GRADUATION... a big day for all the seniors, and their families, and their friends. . . and two honorary diplomas for the first time: one to Debbie Brown and one to Catherine Martig. . . and remembering "A man's only real possession is his memory."

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1976 Lance staff would like to thank the faculty, administration, and student body for making the production of this yearbook possible.

The staff would also like to thank HANS OF BOULDER for his cooperation and patience in taking all the choirs, all the bands, orchestra, and for taking on-the-scene pictures of the canidates at prom.

AVEY PORTRAIT STUDIO is also thanked for their cooperation and patience for taking the Winter Ball and Prom royalty, Golden Football and Golden Basketball and Graduation Speakers.

The cover and division pages were designed and drawn by senior Sherilyn Greer. The artwork in the introduction was done by senior Alice Kasahara. Our thanks to these two great artists.

Our thanks to the dedicated photographers, without whom this book would be meaningless: Eric Gunnerson, Eric Hicks, Chris Kitzie, Greg Lemberg, Devon Reich, Mark Sherman, Brad Wiesley, and Charles Whol. The DAILY CAMERA also deserves our thanks for supplying us with several sports pictures and graduation photos.

And, finally, the 1976 Lance staff would like to thank the faculty, administration, and student body for their patience in dealing with us, our picture problems, our many rescheduled appointments, and especially for waiting so long for our long overdue book. We hope they will all agree that the Spring Autograph Supplement and this, the 1976 Lance, was worth the wait.
